

eTraining-Employee Benefits

GRB offers professional online training that delivers cost effective consistent courses to federal employees for self paced learning.

Learning Online

Employee benefits is an important subject to federal employees, and as busy people, they need the most flexible tools available to help them understand their federal benefits. Now with GRB's eTraining, Agencies can provide their employees with professional online courses that can be accessed from anywhere at anytime. Agencies will find this capability particularly useful for distributed workforces, multiple office sites, and reaching all employees at all stages of their careers. GRB's on-demand eTraining solution supports the President's e-Government initiative to continuously educate the government workforce.

Features

Internet Based—GRB's eTraining is entirely browser-based and can be self-accessed from anywhere over the internet. Employees can take courses from work, at home, or on the road, and at their own pace.

GRB hosted content server—GRB's hosted solution makes courses available immediately without any Agency infrastructure investment.

Macromedia Flash® plug-in (audio/animation)—With Macromedia Flash® the courses are rich, interactive, and engaging. Participants can start, stop, and review each of the lessons at any time.

Can be deployed through Agency's LMS/portal—If your Agency has a Learning Management System (LMS), GRB's eTraining courses can be quickly and easily added to your existing library. Because GRB's eTraining is SCORM and AICC compliant, Agency's can track usage and participant results.

Course Library
